SKIMMINGS

Washington Post: T. R. says that there was no steam roller in 1908 when Mr. Taft was nominated.
He must have been too busy along about that time to read the paper.

New York World: "Can newspapers tell the truth?" asks the Outlook. How can newspapers tell the truth when the only truthful man in the world is the Outlook's contributing editor?

Philadelphia Record: Since paid foreigners. And yet the there is no other way, from Teddy's point of view, of obtaining an absolute, untainted nomination, what could he do but nominate himself?

Indianapolis News: By the Lawrence denomination the county learned that the Wool Trust's employees, instead of being "skilled and highly-paid Americans", were considerable numbers, under speculation.

St. Louis Post-Dispatch: It is reported that Wall street is at last convinced that there should be a substantial reduction of the tariff. With less tariff there might be more money for speculation.

ter, Miss Bertha, and Bill Cummins attended the funeral of Uncle Mod Mullins, near Mullins Station Sunday. —A very sad affair occurred near Calloway church Sunday at John Paynes.
From what we can gather a lot of young folks had gathered there for the purpose of having some pictures made and a young man by the name of Crockett Lamb had a pistol and by some means the pistol was discharged and shot one of his fingers off and tore up another. The same ball took effect in Miss Viola Griffin's neck and it is reported that she is in a serious condition.
She is the daughter of Will Griffin and granddaughter of Uncle Dan Griffin. It is said that Lamb is a very reckless boy.
This is generally the outcome of carrying pistols. Young boys take warning and let this be a lesson to all that indulge in this practice. Altho it be an accident yet some one has to suffer.

We learn through the Louisville Post that the State Fair Board has just formulated a plan whereby every boy in the State between the age of 15 and 18 years will be given an opportunity to visit the State Fair, at Louisville, for a week, free of charge and learn to judge stock and farm produce under the tutelage of the members of the Kentucky State Agricultural College faculty. Under the conditions of this offer one boy will be brought to the fair this year from each of the 120 counties of Kentucky, will be entertained while in Louisville by the State Fair Board and the Agricultural College without expense to himself, and will be taken there and returned home free after the fair ends by the railroads of the State.

PLAN FOR ESSAYS.

To extend the educational advantage of Kentucky each boy between the ages of fifteen and eighteen is invited to write an essay about the farm and submit it to the school superintendent of his home county. After this essay is graded by the superintendent it will be sent to Louisville for further consideration by a member of the Fair Board and a member of the agricultural faculty of the State University.

The essay from each county that wins the highest mark will entitle its writer to be brought to the fair almost free of expense, according to the offer.

While at the fair the boys will receive their bed and board, being required to furnish only their clothes and bed clothes and similar articles. For two hours each morning and afternoon they will meet in classes conducted by members of the agricultural faculty to be taught the scientific judging of cattle and stock of all kinds and every sort of farm produce, for which the multiplicity of exhibits at the fair affords an unsurpassable opportunity. The boys will be in charge of Prof. T. R. Bryant, of the extension department of State University.

TOPICS TO BE DISCUSSED.

Under the general title of "The Home Farm", the boys will be required to deal with the following topics:

- (a) Describe the farm.
- (b) Why I desire to remain there.
- (c) What changes may be made in the present system of carrying on this farm to insure better financial returns.
- (d) What can be done to make farm life more enjoyable.

It is up to the boys of Rock-castle to get busy with pencil and pad and to demonstrate what they can do in the way of essay writing on this important subject. There is one boy in this county who will be awarded this desirable prize trip to the big State Fair and the city. The SIGNAL will print the essay of the winner.

When I want to call up a picture of overwhelming desolation I think of a barren island I read about not long since, an island beat upon by the surf of a stormy sea, blistered by an unrelenting sun, swept by drenching rains and gnawed by corroding dams and miasmatic fog.

On that island, away off upon its remotest point, miles removed from touch or speech of human hand or voice, there is a tent, and in that tent lives a loathsome leper.
At stated intervals a bark bears down upon the island from the unquiet sea, and a silent messenger from the great untender world tosses a supply of bread and a cask of fresh water within reach of the sufferer. Through long nights and endless days of dumb despair the leper sits within the shelter of his tent and awaits the tardy coming of Death, the deliverer. Can the mind of man picture anything more desolate?

And yet every day we fret and grumble about something in our own lot that doesn't please us.— G. W. D. in Danville Advocate.

CHAS. C. DAVIS THE DRUGGIST SAYS

That Tennyson or Longfellow could take a worthless sheet of paper and write a poem on it and make it worth $75,000—that's genius and there are others who can write a few words on a sheet of paper and make it worth $8,000,000—that's capital and this nation of ours can take an ounce and a quarter of gold and stamp upon it an Eagle-bird and make it worth $20—that's money and some of our young ladies will buy a hat for $1.25 but prefer one that cost $35.—that's foolishness. I might sign my name to a check for a $1,000,000, but it wouldn't be worth a dime—that's rouge. But some people will tell you that they can serve you as well as Chink but—that's nonsense—try me.

THE Progressive or Roosevelt Republicans of the Eleventh district are determined that Caleb Powers shall have opposition. We say put out the strongest man to be found, and with the large number of "Teddy" republicans with the assistance of the solid phalanx of the Democratic party victory is just as certain as the day follows the night. Hon. Ben V. Smith, of Somerset is a candidate on the Democratic ticket but what showing does he have or expect to have or what can he hope to do. Mr. Smith is a high toned gentleman and a man that every democrat could heartily support, but what will it count after he has made the race and received every democratic vote in the whole district? These are facts that can not be denied. The time has come when the voters must vote the way their votes will count and do some good and for our part we would like to see the Democrats stay out and let the Progressive Republicans take the place where there is some hope of something being done. Speaking for ourself and in doing so we know we are voicing the sentiment of hundreds of other democrats in the district, we propose to vote in the Eleventh Congressional district race, where we know or have reason to believe that our vote will do some good and if it is necessary to leave the old Rooster for one time to do it, we are ready to go.

The "Old Wilderness" road, traveled by Daniel Boone and the pioneers who came into Kentucky by way of Cumberland Gap is to become an important connecting public highway between Central Kentucky and East Tennessee, if plans now being promoted by the Bristol, Tenn., Board of Trade and kindred organization in that section of Tennessee, which have organized the Bristol-Lexington Highway Association, are carried out.

The plan is to construct a great connecting highway, built of macadam direct from Bristol, Tenn., to Lexington and interest in the movement is being aroused along the proposed line of both States.

The route of the proposed road, if it follows Boone's trace, would pass through this county and out by the way of Boone's Gap, but it is probable the route via Cruzes Ferry and Richmond road on border of Jackson and Rockcastle may be chosen. When the matter reaches the proper stage our county should make every effort to have the road brought via Mt. Vernon. It would not be more than four or five miles longer than the route to the East of us.

MAIL CARRIERS WILL FLY.

This is an age of great discoveries. Progress rides on the air. Soon we may see Uncle Sam's mail carriers flying in all directions, transporting mail. People take a wonderful interest in a discovery that benefits them. That's why Dr. King's New Discovery for Coughs, Colds and other throat and lung diseases is the most popular medicine in America. "It cured me of a dreadful cough," writes Mrs. J. F. Davis, Stickney Corner, Me., "after doctor's treatment and all other remedies had failed." For coughs, colds or any bronchial affection its unequalled. Price 50c and $1.00. Trial bottle free at Chas. C. Davis.

Overtuning the majority of its own committee, and reversing its vote of March 1, 1911, the Senate took away from William Lorimer his seat as junior Senator from Illinois by a vote of 55 to 28. A member of the Senate since June 18 1909, Mr. Lorimer was declared to have been the recipient of votes secured by "corrupt methods and practices," and his election was held to have been invalid. Facing his associates with the declaration, "I am ready," the man who for three days had held the Senate to close attention with his remarkable speech of defense and attack, sat in the chamber and heard his fate decreed as the roll call showed the adoption of the resolution of Senator Luke Lee.

Never leave home on a journey without a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhea Remedy. It is almost certain to be needed and cannot be obtained when on board the cars or steam ships. For sale by Chas. C. Davis.

THE DRINKING CUP LAW.

There seems to be a disposition in every part of the State to conform to the provisions of the law passed by the last Legislature against the common drinking cup. It is well that such is the case.

It was to be expected that the law would arouse some opposition and in the beginning, would impose some hardships, but it was enacted for the public good and to the extent of its faithful enforcement the public will benefit. If it shall assist in preventing the spread of disease its benefits will greatly overbalance any temporary inconvenience that it may cause. That it will so assist can scarcely be doubted by any sensible person who has ever given any thought to the possibilities of harm that lie in the general drinking cup.

Scientific opinion has condemned the common drinking cup and cities and States are rapidly forbidding the use of a medium so potent for the augmentation of human maladies. It is an agency of disease that is just beginning to be generally recognized and the State Legislature has done itself credit in putting a ban on it, and thereby has taken a progressive stand in legislation for the public health and welfare. There should be co-operation everywhere for the enforcement of so salutary a measure and there is cause for congratulation that there is so much evidence of a popular desire to observe its provisions.

There is a widespread impression that the Republican convention of 1880, which on the thirty-sixth ballot gave James A. Garfield 399 votes and the nomination, was the longest drawn out of any in the history of American political parties. This is an error. The Convention which met at Charleston on the 23d of April, 1860, with full delegations from every State in the Union, took fifty-seven ballots without reaching a decision, owing to the two-third vote. Many delegates having seceded and held another convention in the same city which later adjourned to Richmond, Va., the regular Democrats themselves adjourned to meet again at Baltimore. There, on June 18, they reassembled and on the first ballot, gave Stephen A. Douglas, of Illinois, the nomination. Fifty-seven, not thirty-six, ballots is the record.

Mrs. Y.—"I just love to shut my eyes and think."

Mr. Y.—"Why don't you try that with your mouth sometimes dear?"
